

Armored Units of the Baltic Republics: Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania

The armored units of the Baltic Republics of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania have a long and storied history. These units were first formed in the early 20th century, and they played a significant role in the independence wars of the Baltic Republics from 1918 to 1920.

Armored units of the Baltic republics Estonia-Latvia-Lithuania by Elaine Forman Crane

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 5214 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 159 pages
Lending : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported

After the independence wars, the armored units of the Baltic Republics continued to develop and modernize. In the 1930s, Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania all Free Downloaded modern armored vehicles from Western Europe. These vehicles included tanks, armored cars, and anti-tank guns.

During the Second World War, the armored units of the Baltic Republics fought against both the Soviet Union and Nazi Germany. The Estonian 2nd

Armored Battalion was particularly distinguished for its role in the defense of Tallinn in 1941.

After the Second World War, the armored units of the Baltic Republics were disbanded. Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania were incorporated into the Soviet Union, and their military forces were merged into the Red Army.

In 1991, Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania regained their independence. The armored units of the Baltic Republics were re-established, and they have since been modernized and integrated into NATO.

The Estonian Armored Brigade

The Estonian Armored Brigade is the primary armored unit of the Estonian Defense Forces. The brigade is equipped with Leopard 2A5 main battle tanks, CV90 infantry fighting vehicles, and Patria XA-180 armored personnel carriers. The brigade is based in Tapa, Estonia.

The Latvian Armored Brigade

The Latvian Armored Brigade is the primary armored unit of the Latvian Land Forces. The brigade is equipped with Leopard 2A5 main battle tanks, CV90 infantry fighting vehicles, and Patria XA-180 armored personnel carriers. The brigade is based in Adazi, Latvia.

The Lithuanian Armored Brigade

The Lithuanian Armored Brigade is the primary armored unit of the Lithuanian Land Forces. The brigade is equipped with Leopard 2A4 main battle tanks, M113 armored personnel carriers, and Vilkas infantry fighting vehicles. The brigade is based in Rukla, Lithuania.

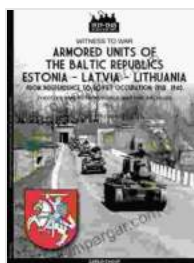

The Future of the Armored Units of the Baltic Republics

The armored units of the Baltic Republics are an important part of the defense of the region. These units are well-trained and equipped, and they are ready to defend their countries against any threat.

The armored units of the Baltic Republics are also an important part of NATO. These units contribute to the collective defense of the alliance, and they help to deter potential aggressors.

The future of the armored units of the Baltic Republics is bright. These units are an essential part of the defense of the region, and they will continue to play a vital role in NATO.

The armored units of the Baltic Republics are a proud and historic part of the military history of the region. These units have played a significant role in the defense of the Baltic Republics, and they continue to contribute to the collective defense of NATO.

Armored units of the Baltic republics Estonia-Latvia-Lithuania by Elaine Forman Crane

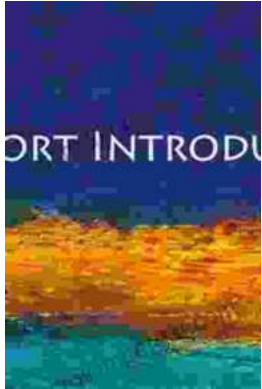

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 5214 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 159 pages
Lending : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported

FREE

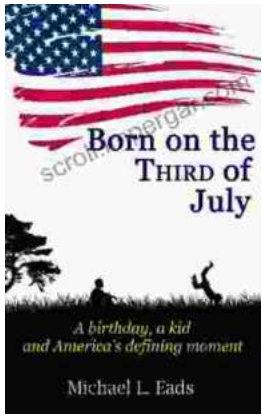

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Very Short Introductions: A Gateway to Knowledge Unleashed

In the realm of academia, where vast oceans of information await exploration, Very Short s (VSIs) emerge as a beacon of clarity and accessibility. These concise yet...

Born on the Third of July: An Unforgettable Journey of Resilience, Courage, and Hope

Born on the Third of July is a powerful and poignant memoir that chronicles the author's experiences as a young man drafted into the Vietnam War and...