Carthage

Carthage was a powerful maritime empire that flourished in North Africa from the 9th to the 2nd century BC. Founded by Phoenician colonists, Carthage grew to control a vast empire that stretched from Spain to Sicily to North Africa. Carthage was a major center of trade and culture, and its people were renowned for their seafaring skills and their advanced knowledge of mathematics and astronomy.

The Carthaginians were also fierce warriors, and they fought a number of wars against the Greeks and Romans. In the end, Carthage was defeated by Rome in the Punic Wars, and its empire was destroyed. However, the legacy of Carthage lives on in the many cities and towns that it founded, including Tunis, the capital of Tunisia.
